

Other bijections

Similarly, you can come up with bijections between every other pair of the sets \mathbb{N} , \mathbb{Z} and \mathbb{Z}^+ , to prove that they all have the same cardinality.

Note you need to prove that the function is a bijection (i.e., that it is 1-1 and onto).