Dealing with NP-hard problems

Although we don't know if $\mathcal{P} = \mathcal{NP}$, let's assume they aren't the same... and hence that $\mathcal{NP}$-hard problems are going to be hard to solve!

What does this mean to you, as a programmer?