

If-then

IF A THEN B (sometimes denoted $A \rightarrow B$, and worded as “A implies B”) is the same as:

- ▶ whenever A is True, B must be True
- ▶ It isn't possible for B to be False if A is True

So, how would you show that “IF A THEN B” is False?