Summary of Opinion Mining

- Very important with a lot of applications!
- Sentiment analysis can be done using text categorization techniques
  - With enriched feature representation
  - With consideration of ordering of the categories
- Generative models are powerful for mining latent user preferences
- Most approaches were proposed for product reviews
- Opinion mining from news and social media remains challenging