

Agglomerative Hierarchical Clustering

- Given a similarity function to measure similarity between two objects
- Gradually group similar objects together in a bottom-up fashion to form a hierarchy
- Stop when some stopping criterion is met
- Variations: different ways to compute group similarity based on individual object similarity