

Language Models

A language model is a probability distribution over word sequences.