Since SGNS is just factorizing a shifted version of the PMI matrix, why not just perform a rank-k SVD on the PMI matrix directly?

MP2!

With a little TLC, this method can actually work and does surprisingly well.