

Big Ideas – Energy

- A system is more stable with lower potential energy.
- Achieving low potential energy is a driving force.
 - Thus, if energy is transferred into a system, the system will work to transfer this energy out.