

VSEPR – General Rules

- Draw the Lewis structure.
 - If the octet rule is exceeded, add electrons to the central atom.
- Multiple bonds count as one direction (or one “effective pair”).
- Consider the lone pairs when determining the geometry.
- Consider only the atoms when determining the shape.
- Polarity comes from asymmetry.