

The Mole Concept: Why?

---

- We can count by weighing (relative masses).
  - Reactions occur by number of particles, we must deal with masses, so we must have a way of converting between number and mass.
  - Subscripts in formulas represent numbers.
- Atoms/molecules are very small!