

What information do we get from a balanced equation?

- Formulas of reactants (left side of the equation).
- Formulas of products (right side of the equation).
- Relative amounts of reactants and products (in terms of numbers of atoms/molecules).