

Dipole-dipole interactions

- Polar molecules exhibit these forces.
- Due to permanent dipoles.
- Stronger IMFs than LDFs (given similar sized molecules).
- Examples include hydrogen chloride (HCl) and water (H₂O – which exhibits a special kind of dipole-dipole interaction called hydrogen bonding).