

A Question for You...

Consider a 1.50 g mixture of sodium nitrate and sodium chloride. The mixture is dissolved in 100 mL of water to which is added an excess of 0.500 M silver nitrate. A white solid is collected, dried, and found to have a mass of 3.14 g.

Calculate the percent sodium chloride by mass in the original unknown mixture.