Computation Used to Solve Problems

The second key concept?

computation

Given some information, answer a question, or make a decision.

Humans are good at such things.

So are computers.

Let's consider some examples.