

One Simple Approach: Pick a Place

Often, the best solution

- is to define the version at some server
- (in one place)
- to be the correct one.

To make changes, send operations to that server.

The server

- serializes operations into some order
- and applies them one at a time.

