– how do you design the decision boundary … can you say it mathematically?
– Where do you draw the decision boundary? Many possible ways …
– Should you take the average distance of all points to the decision boundary?
– You maximize the minimum distance for every class

Maximize the minimum distance from the red and green points.