

Should Use of ML be Regulated?

Perhaps we should develop standards before allowing use of ML?

- safer than the best humans
- more accurate / correct than the best humans
- less biased than the best humans

(These may not be easy to define and/or evaluate.)

The question of responsibility will still arise, but at least fewer humans will be harmed.