

When are Surveillance and Control Acceptable?

To decide whether such activities are acceptable, we can start with these questions:

- When and to what extent does government or someone else have the right to monitor your actions?
- When and to what extent does government or someone else have the right to control what you are allowed to do?