

Benefits of Strong Surveillance

Now a story about surveillance.

In China today, video cameras are everywhere, tracking both vehicles and people.

A few years ago, officials proudly announced that a crime was solved before it was even reported!

A woman drove with her husband

- to an unusual location
- (never visited before, and unpopulated),
- and returned without him.

When police looked in the location, they found his body!