Data Can be Replaced by Clustered Points

In such cases,
- data can be replaced with clustered points
- such that the density of each type is equal,
- preventing KNN from being swamped
- with effectively equivalent points of one type.