

Can Someone Else Use that Computer Now?

In the 80s and 90s, computers were still somewhat of a luxury item—most families did not own one.

Universities, on the other hand, had many (tens or even hundreds!).

Why not create a model in which someone could use a computer for a little while, whenever they needed one?

