

Summary

- Networks (graphs) are all around us
 - Man-made networks like Internet, WWW, p2p
 - Natural networks like protein networks, human social network
- Yet, many of these have common characteristics
 - Small-world
 - Power-law
- Useful to know this: when designing distributed systems that run on such networks
 - Can better predict how these networks might behave