

Cassandra

- A distributed key-value store
- Intended to run in a datacenter (and also across DCs)
- Originally designed at Facebook
- Open-sourced later, today an Apache project
- Some of the companies that use Cassandra in their production clusters
 - IBM, Adobe, HP, eBay, Ericsson, Symantec
 - Twitter, Spotify
 - PBS Kids
 - Netflix: uses Cassandra to keep track of your current position in the video you're watching
- (Version from 2015)