

Idea behind all of this

- We are set to perform some sort of experiment
- We know that some $\omega \in \Omega$ will occur, but we don't know which one
- - We want to estimate the probability of some
 - (event, which is a collection of outcomes)
 - before we do the experiment.