

Comparison:

Electric Force vs. Electric Field

- Electric Force (F) – the actual force felt by a real charge at some location
- Electric Field (E) – found for a location only (any location) – tells what the electric force would be if a charge were located there:

$$F = Eq$$

- Both are vectors, with magnitude and direction.