

Comparison:

Electric Potential Energy vs. Electric Potential

- Electric Potential Energy (U) - the energy of a charge at some location.
- Electric Potential (V) - found for a location only – tells what the EPE would be if a charge were located there (usually talk about potential differences between two locations):

$$U = Vq$$

- Neither has direction, just value.
Sign matters!