Object Location

- Light rays from sun bounce off object and go in all directions
  - Some hit your eyes

We know object's location by where rays come from.

- Color results from some light being absorbed by object before bouncing off.