If we make the slit narrower (decrease w =Δy) the diffraction peak gets broader (Δp_y increases).

"If we know location very precisely, we lose knowledge of momentum, and vice versa."