

Electrons are Particles and Waves!

- Depending on the experiment electron can behave like
 - wave (interference)
 - particle (localized mass and charge)
- Recall Young's double slit experiment:
 - If we measure which slit the electron went through, then there is no interference pattern!!