

Diverging Lens: Consider the case where the shape of the lens is such that light rays parallel to the axis of the lens all diverge but appear to come from a common spot a distance f in front of the lens:

