

Figure 6: Photo of a drawing of a woolly mammoth at Pech-Merle. Photo: Agenda de la Préhistoire 2002-3. An attempt has been made by the prehistoric artist to indicate the beast's characteristic long heavy coat, and the domed head is clearly shown. The original drawing is about 31.5 inches long.

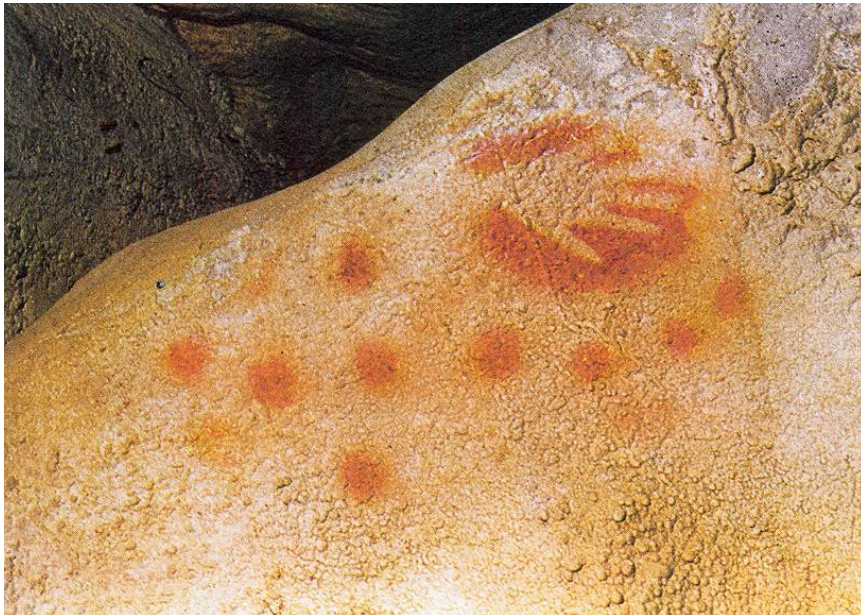

Figure 7: A photo of a hand stencil on the wall at Grotte du Pech Merle. Note again more of the red dots. Photo: Man before History by John Waechter